Istook Statement on Right-to-Work Vote

Washington, DC – “Passing a Right-to-Work law is a tremendous victory for all Oklahomans. This puts us on the right path for building our state’s economy and improving our quality of life. We will attract jobs and opportunities in Oklahoma by offering people freedom and prosperity, rather than antiquated laws.

"Now let's focus on the next steps toward a better Oklahoma. For example, I've focused on major expansion in medical research that's being done in Oklahoma, and on improving hands-on technology in our schools and communities. Oklahoma can earn its rightful place at the forefront of the information industries, and in other areas, too."
